FEDERAL ELECTION
COMMISSION
OFFICE OF GENERAL

July 12, 2000

Mr. William Messenger
FEDERAL ELECTIONS COMMISSION
999 E. Street, N.W.
Washington, D. C. 20463

Re: MUR 5030

Dear Mr. Messenger:

Thank you for providing me with additional time to respond to your letter of inquiry and notice of pending actions. It has taken some time to review the matters previously reported to you.

Enclosed is an affidavit statement of Julie Herrmann who handled the matters referenced in the MUR during the period of the campaign. I have reviewed this letter and believe it adequately covers all of the matters subject to your inquiry.

It is embarrassing to someone like myself who believes in full and timely reporting to campaign financing to be in a position of reporting the errors which have obviously occurred.

Sincerely,

Bob Greenlee

First being duly sworn under oath, I submit the following information to the Federal Election Commission concerning MUR 5030:

My name is Julie Herrmann and I presently reside at 10255 Dover Street, #235, Westminster, CO 80021.

In 1998 I was a full-time employee of the Greenlee for Congress campaign committee. Among my various duties, I was the staff person responsible for filing and reporting of certain information to the Federal Election Commission and other legal authorities. Specifically, I was also the person responsible for the proper reporting of information to the FEC under the "48-hour notice" rule.

Through the November 1998 election, I was unaware of any reporting irregularities to the FEC, other than the mis-reporting of the Bank One contribution, (and which was rectified by an amended 48 Hour Report on November 9, 1999). Throughout the rest of the 48-hour reporting period--to the best of my knowledge and belief--I properly made all required reports on behalf of the Greenlee for Congress committee.

In February of 1999, I was notified that the Greenlee for Congress committee had received an inquiry letter from the Federal Elections Commission. I was provided with a copy of that letter which was dated February 2, 1999. The letter indicated that the committee may have had certain problems with the proper reporting of information related to the 1998 campaign--particularly as related to the "48-hour notice". The letter recommended that we review our procedures for checking contributions received during the "48-hour notice" period.

In looking over the materials required to provide a response to the FEC's February 2, 1999 letter, I did discover certain errors and discrepancies concerning my previously filed reports. I undertook a detailed examination of each of the questionable items reported. Specifically, I reviewed Schedule A of the 30-day post general filing report inasmuch as that appears to be the source of information on which a review of our procedures seems to have been made. Until the receipt of this letter, and my subsequent review of various documents and records, I was unaware that there was any reason to believe there may have been any inadvertent irregularities in the information and data previously reported.

In a letter dated February 16, 1999, written and mailed by me, every attempt was made to rectify the inadvertent errors. Throughout the course of the campaign, I made every attempt to make sure that the campaign provided full and accurate information to the FEC, members of the campaign staff, the candidate, and members of the campaign finance committee. We developed what I considered to be a reasonable system of checks and balances concerning our campaign financing and reporting..

All data was entered into a custom-designed campaign tracking system (Aristotle). I did have at least two volunteer assistants helping me with recordkeeping during this period of time but I assume total responsibility for administering the committee's records and properly submitting required reports.

On or about the 25th of June, 2000, I was notified by Bob Greenlee that he had received a followup letter from the Federal Election Commission which was dated June 19, 2000. Mr. Greenlee was out of town until June 25th which accounted for the delay in receiving the June 19th letter. Mr. Greenlee asked me to once again review this matter and attempt to more fully explain the discrepancies and any irregularities with the regard to previously filed reports.

Upon reviewing the letter and its attachments, it appears to me that your current letter reviews the information previously covered in the February 16, 1999 response letter with the addition of imposing a substantial fine for the inadvertent errors previously discovered and reported by me. I again went to the source documents used in preparing the February, 16th response to make sure nothing more might have been in error. In doing so, I discovered that I have no clear record of whether six of the contributions, representing about $10,000.00 in receipts were actually subject to the 48-hour reporting requirement. According to the rules—as I understand them—contributions received from October 15, 1998 would have been subject to the 48-hour reporting period. Although deposit of these checks clearly occurred after October 15, 1998, I have every reason to believe that these six checks were received by the campaign prior to October 15th. In fact, each of the dates of the checks received show dates of contribution prior to October 15th. (See Attachment 1)

Dear Mr. Greenlee:

On behalf of the Action Committee for Rural Electrification (ACRE), I am pleased to forward to your campaign committee a check in the amount of $1,000 for your 1998 General Election. This contribution was endorsed by the rural electric program leaders in the state of Colorado and represents funds derived from more than 19,000 individual contributions of approximately $36 each by rural electric leaders and members throughout the nation.

The ACRE program was created 32 years ago to provide an opportunity for rural electric leaders to help candidates for office who understand the basic needs and goals of rural electrification. ACRE is bipartisan and bases its support on one very firm principle: support those candidates who support the goals and objectives of rural electrification and rural people.

ACRE is affiliated with the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association (NRECA), which represents the legislative interests of the nation's nearly 1,000 rural electric systems and their 125 million consumer-members before the U.S. Congress. Should you ever have questions or need information concerning our program, please feel free to call me at our offices in Arlington, Virginia.
